How College Football Uniforms Work

- Unlike the pros, college teams mix and match jersey, pants and helmet combinations almost every week, and many announce a special alternate or throwback for a marquee game.
- Reveals land all season (August through the bowls), usually dropping midweek before a Saturday game.
- Neutral-site and rivalry games (like the Shamrock Series and Dublin openers) are where the boldest looks debut.
- Use page 2 to track your own team's combination every week, and check the box when they break out an alternate.
